DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Congress,

JAMES B. McCREARY.

SOME one sends us a marked copy of the Springfield, Ohio, Beacon, in which a writer from Milfordville, this county, tries to convince himself that the prohibition sentiment of Lincoln is steadily increasing. But he does not stick either to the facts or figures. For instance he says Mrs. Henry's vote in this county was but 12 short of Fisk's, when in reality it was 22. He also says that the prohibition county candidate was defeated last year by 1,200 and this year by but 900. This also is a misstatement. It is true that Hon. R. C. Warren beat Preacher Montgomery 1,209 votes, but in that race there was no republican opposition and not much interest shown by the republican leaders. This year, with a republican in the field for appellate clerk, Mrs. Henry's vote is 1,000 less than Longmoor's and with Tinsley's vote added the prohibition ticket falls 1,791 in the minority. If in some of the county races the majority was less, it was not from prohibition but personal reasons, as is shown from the fact that our majority ran all the way from 905 for Miller over Hackley, to 1,304 for Cooper over Gooch. The Milfordville writer winds up his effusive article with these encouraging words: "With us the republican party is dead and buried, and the democratic party is very sick. The true state of the case is that we have only two parties in our county, viz., the prohibition party and the drunkard party." This may be the way it looks through the green goggles of a prohibitionist, but the statement is not borne out by the facts. When the so-called third party only polls 187 votes in a total of 2,418 cast in the race under discussion, with 3,500 in the county, it doesn't look much to the unprejudiced mind that the "Prohibitionists are coming and certain to get there," as he states. On the contrary quite the reverse.

By order of the last Press Association we sent requests to those editors who procured transportation, but failed to attend the Winchester meeting and pay their dues, to forward the $1 due for each member. There were about 30 thus notified, but of that number only five responded: Mr. J. J. Glenn, of the Madisonville Hustler; B. G. Boyle, of the Danville Advocate; T. H. Morris, of the Nelson Record; Rosser & McClurthy, of the Maysville Bulletin; and R. H. Carothers, of the Educational Countant. The others say by their action that it is no more than the association should do than to give its secretary's time, stationery and stamps for them free, gratis, for nothing.

The Raum scandal continues to grow more sensational. Mr. Cooper, who brought the charges against Raum, found that Smyser, of Ohio, one of the investigating committee, was a stockholder in the Raum Refrigerator Company and forced him to resign before the bar of the House, while Speaker Reid apologized for his appointment. His explanation, however, did not explain, further than to increase the belief that he appointed Smyser on the committee with the evident intention of getting Raum whitewashed. A sweet-scented set indeed is Reed and his conspirators.

A law has just gone into effect in New York which prohibits a child under the age of 16 from using tobacco in any form "in any public street, place or resort." Officers of the law are authorized to arrest offenders without a warrant and upon conviction a fine is to be assessed of not less than $2 nor more than $10. So hereafter the boys will have to go off and hide if they indulge in the silly and hurtful pastime of chewing and smoking. The legislature ought to have made it a penitentiary offense for grown people too, while they were at it.

BLAINE'S reciprocity doctrine is taking root in the republican party. Even Mr. Sherman has caught on to it and given notice that he will offer an amendment to the tariff bill proposing reciprocity with Canada in coal and looking to the further extension of trade relations between the United States and Canada. Reciprocity is another name for free trade and has been adopted by Blaine and his followers to let them down lightly from their former high protection perch.

MR. J. A. PAUER has bought the LaGrange Index and will hereafter run it as a democratic sheet. Mr. Z. O. King, who started the paper and made it a good one, says in his valedictory that a republican stands no more show in Oldham county than an icicle does in ladies, even if he does keep his mouth shut on politics and run an independent paper.

THE Philadelphia Times, which is not often mistaken, says that Pattison, the democratic candidate for governor, will beat Delamater, 50,000 votes. Stranger things have happened and it is sincerely to be hoped that Col. McClure is both a prophet and a son of a prophet.

The vote of the August election is at last promulgated. Longmoor received 163,712 and Tinsley 107,005, making Longmoor's majority 56,707, the largest since Tilden was a candidate for president. Mrs. Henry received 1,349 votes, which is $81 less than Fisk received, but 980 more than Cobb got for treasurer two years ago. The total vote cast this year is 273,057 or 7,075 more than was cast at the last off year election, when Sharp's vote was 13,740 less than Longmoor's and Colson's 7,614 more than Tinsley's. The wisdom of Longmoor's nomination seems to have been fully vindicated and sulkers severely rebuked.

A LONG highwayman held up an L. & N. train in half a mile of Pensacola Junction, in Alabama, and compelled the express messenger to hand over the contents of the safe, the amount of valuables in which is not stated. The robber first went to the engine and at the point of his pistol made the engineer run the train on a bridge. Then he ordered the engineer to go back to the car and break the door in, which order he obeyed with alacrity. The express messenger then handed over the valuables and the robber departed, leaving two of the biggest rewards on record, if they were not in cahoot with him.

THE lion and the lamb are lying down peacefully together in the Winchester jail. French and Eversole, the leaders of the Perry county feud, are in adjacent cells and for the time their bitter hatred seems to sleep. They converse and make the best of their enforced proximity. Both claim that it is a great outrage that they should be cooped up in jail and both are talking of habeas corpus proceedings. As they have been the cause of only 27 murders, of course they do not deserve to suffer any inconvenience.

COL. T. H. ARNOLD writes that the special train of palace cars for the Middlesboro Press entertainment will leave Louisville via the Knoxville Branch of the L. & N. at 8:35 p. m. Sept. 10, and that he will be at the Fifth Avenue at that day to receive such of the guests as may arrive before its departure. The Middlesboro people are never so happy as when entertaining and the boys may be sure of a royal reception all along the line.

ARKANSAS has more than doubled her democratic majority of two years ago. Gov. Eagle being re-elected by more than 30,000 majority over his republican opponent. The legislature will be overwhelmingly democratic, thus insuring the re-election of James K. Jones as United States Senator, he having no opposition in his party. The democracy seems to be on top everywhere in this good year of our Lord.

EDITOR RECKER, of the Somerset Reporter, who is chairman of the prohibition committee in the 11th District, has called a convention to nominate a candidate for Congress, to meet at Williamsburg Sept. 9th. As the 11th is overwhelmingly republican and as republicans usually stick to their first love, Bro. Recker and his alleged party will realize the sadness that comes from love's labor lost.

THE Vermont State election resulted in the reduction of the republican majority more than half, while the democratic vote there and in every State where elections have been held, has been largely increased. The g. o. p. is on the down grade and little wonder. The revolutionary and profligate methods of Congress are enough to disgust any honest citizen.

THE constitutional convention will confer a great boon on the citizens of the State, if it will reduce the number of elections and change the time of holding them from August to November. Let all the elections be held at one time and less frequently, so that the people will not be in a never ending period of political turmoil.

THE Louisville Critic was one year old this week and the statement is made that it has earned $8,000 since it began its existence. Editor O'Sullivan's bold and fearless course is apparently winning him a fortune, as it is undoubtedly making him a name and fame. For all of which his friends are truly thankful.

THE State press is teeming with praises of Capt. E. H. Gaither and his noble little band for the excellent work they did in Perry county. From all accounts they fully deserve it, for they brought order out of chaos and showed to the outlaws that the law is supreme and must be obeyed.

HON. ROGER Q. MILLS will speak at Catlettsburg on the 16th and probably at Lexington the same week. An effort will be made by his acquaintances and admirers here to have the great tariff reformist address our people.

—Under the call of August 21 the secretary of the treasury had, up to Saturday, purchased $20,020,100 of 4 per cent. bonds, paying, in addition to their par value, full interest up to Sept. 1, 1891. He has now issued another call for $20,000,000 more, on the same terms. Would it not be better to tax our people less and pay our debts when they are due?

HUBBLE.

—Dr. O'Neal reports Stella McCrory to be in an improving condition. James Engleman's wife came near being burned to death a few days ago. Her dress caught fire and she was in the act of starting to the branch to extinguish the fire when Mr. Engleman caught her and, richer of her flaming clothes. Wm. Hubble has been confined to his bed some days. J. J. Walker sells the Barnett stock of goods Sept. 12 and 13. Wm. Moore has moved to Danville to take charge of his brother's farm. Underwood and Miller drove about 50 hogs to Sugar Creek to have fed at 24. Sam Engleman has been confined to his room for some days, but is better now. Bowen Givens was down and rented part of his farm to Wm. Huffman. He also sold his rye to B. L. Hubble at 50 cents. B. F. A general row occurred at the colored church here Sunday night, over Ed Penman stealing George Nailer's girl and eloping with her, pistols, knives, fence rails and lumber legs being used for weapons. Such conduct ought to be investigated. James Blackberry and wife are visiting her father, John Yeakey, at this place, after a long stay in Oakland county.
